Scientific Evidence

Effectiveness of Glucosamine and Chondroitin Sulfate for the Treatment of Knee Osteoarthritis

Published in

The New England Journal of Medicine (NEJM)

Publication Year

2006

Study Type

Randomized, double-blind, placebo-controlled clinical trial (GAIT Trial)

Participants

1,583 patients with knee osteoarthritis

Study Duration

24 weeks

Key Findings

Clinical research demonstrated that:

Glucosamine + Chondroitin significantly reduced pain in patients with moderate to severe osteoarthritis.

Response rate reached 79.2% compared with 54.3% in the placebo group.

Glucosamine alone showed modest improvement in mild cases.

The combination was safe and well tolerated.

Supports both symptom relief and joint structure in osteoarthritis.
